CITY ELECTION

For Mayor
J. T. MALONEY.
For Alderman.
C. E. BULLOCK
H. A. BURGER

BRYAN, TEXAS, APRIL 8, 1910.

During Cleveland's second term a prominent business man of Atlanta in a public address declared that the then occupant of the White House was the greatest man in the world and that he should be made president for life with a salary of $100,000 a year. This extravagant praise was laughed at all over the country. Scarcely less ridiculous is the proposition of a New York preacher in his sermon last Sunday, to make Roosevelt ambassador extraordinary to all the governments of the world, with the object of establishing universal and perpetual peace. It was not without good reason that Senator Tillman exclaimed in disgust: "All this ado about Roosevelt makes me sick."

The people of the United States want tariff revision downward; the people of Texas want a chance to vote on state-wide prohibition; the people of Brazos county want a free ballot and a fair count; the people of Bryan want to get rid of the obstructing influence of selfish factions, so that all may work together for a greater, better and more beautiful Bryan. If the people will keep a hump on they will get what they want.

The women of official social circles in Washington have taken up the fight between the Republican factions, the wives of regulars taking delight in snubbing the wives of insurgents and the latter retorting by snapping their fingers in the faces of their insulters. There is no longer any hope of reconciliation.

In recognition of his eminent services to Masonry the portrait of Gen. H. B. Stoddard occupies the central position in the group of nine most notable Knights Templar attending the meeting of the Grand Commandery in Houston and in the parade he was given the place of honor in the first automobile.

Judge Poindexter's righteous soul is vexed because a newcomer in the Bailey camp (Colquitt) is trying to corral all the voters carrying the Bailey brand, and a newcomer in the prohibition camp (Cone Johnson) is stealing the hearts of saloon-smashers, and whisky-haters. It is very sad.

There is no sort of doubt that the people of the United States have lost confidence in the Republican party. The only question is, have they sufficient confidence in the Democratic party to induce them to entrust it with the administration of the government?

It is reported that the packers have bought 6,000,000 dozen eggs and placed them in cold storage so as to reduce the supply on the retail market and keep up the price. Is there anybody still in doubt as to the cause of the high cost of living?

Our strenuous "Ted," of course, sees many things out of joint among the effete nations across the water. While he is about it it might not be a bad thing for all concerned if he would take charge of all Europe, at least long enough to put things in order. We can do without him for awhile on this side.

Mr. Bryan says he will not start a prohibition paper and he will not be a candidate for the Senate, but he refuses to say what he will do, so the painful suspense of those who dread him will be protracted at least until his return.

Mixed by reports of the recent Democratic primary in Arkansas, an exchange shouts: "Arkansas has gone Democratic. Things are coming our way at last, and every day we get nearer to Uncle Sam's pie."

There is nobody living who can remember when Arkansas was anything else but Democratic, except one lapse into Populism. This, of course, does not include reconstruction days when the people were ruled by the bayonet.

A New Yorker named Smith, who has just been sentenced to a long term for forgery, is not an ordinary felon. His peculiarity is a monomania for charity. He committed forgery to get money to give to the poor.

The postoffice department has rejected a proposition to carry the mail in aerial craft. Uncle Sam isn't yet ready for his business to go up in the air.

Mr. Carnegie says he has made up his mind not to make any more money if he can help it. But he can't help it; he's built that way.

When Mr. Roosevelt goes to Copenhagen will be required to submit his instruments, records and other data?

It seems that Cardinal Merry Del Val is to be made a scapegoat. Will he be merry still?

A DEAD STOMACH.

Of What Use Is It to Anyone?
Thousands? yes, hundreds of thousands of people throughout America are taking the slow death treatment. They are murdering their own stomach, the best friend they have, and in their sublime ignorance they think they are putting aside the laws of nature.

This is no sensational statement; it is a startling fact, the truth of which any honorable physician will not deny.

These thousands of people are swallowing daily huge quantities of poison and other strong digesters, made especially to digest the food in the stomach without any aid at all from the digestive membrane of the stomach.

In other words, they are taking from the stomach the work that nature intended it should do, and are also refusing it the only chance for exercise it has.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets relieve distressed stomach in five minutes; they do more. Taken regularly for a few weeks they build up the run down stomach and make it strong enough to digest its own food. Then indigestion, belching, sour stomach and headache will go.

Mi-o-na stomach tablets are sold by druggists everywhere and by E. J. Jenkins who guarantees them. 50 cents a box.

AGRICULTURAL COLLEGE ON WHEELS.
Railroads and A. and M. Faculty Co-
Operating in Carrying Instruction to the Farmers.

College Station, Texas, April 8.—An agricultural school on wheels is an experiment to be started by the joint efforts of the passenger traffic department of the Central-East and West lines and the A. and M. College of Texas, the time for the first trip of this train having been fixed for early in August of this year.

There was a meeting at the office of President R. T. Milner of the college yesterday, attended by C. K. Dunlap, traffic manager of the Harriman lines in Texas, T. J. Anderson, general passenger agent of the Houston & Texas Central, Houston, East and West Texas and Galveston, Harrisburg & San Antonio, and H. P. Atwater, industrial agent of the Harriman lines in Texas, together with officers of the college. It is proposed to equip a train of from eight to ten cars, carry exhibits of agriculture, live stock, soils, horticulture, fertilizers, etc. These exhibits will be collected by the heads of the various departments at the college, and will not be in the nature of exhibits of a car that is trying to get settlers, but will be to show actual farmers what can be done in this state in the matter of cultivation. The train is to be accompanied by General Passenger Agent Anderson and Mr. Atwater from the railroad, Prof. Charles H. Alvord, professor of agriculture and dairying; Prof. E. J. Kyle, professor of horticulture; Prof. John C. Burns, professor of animal husbandry; D. T. Griswold, assistant professor of animal husbandry and poultry; Dr. R. P. Marsteller, associate professor of veterinary science and surgery; Dr. G. S. Fraps, state chemist and soil expert; James W. Carson, state feed inspector; H. L. McKnight, assistant professor of agriculture; Col. R. T. Milner, president of the college; Judge Ed R. Kone, commissioner of agriculture for the state. James Hays Quarles will have charge of the publicity feature for the party.

An itinerary of ten days or two weeks will be arranged, the start to be made from the college directly after the close of the Farmers' Congress. The exhibits that are to be taken on the train will be shown at the Congress and then loaded into the train for this trip. Just what section of the state will be visited first have not yet been determined, but the purpose is to encourage better growing of crops. Stops will be made of two to three hours' duration, and each head of a department will make an address on his especial line of work. It will be in the nature of an educational proposition. The agricultural education that the A. and M. College of Texas is giving is to be taken directly to the man who cannot come to the college. Stops will not be made at every station, because the time could not be given to every one, but a central point in each county will be selected, and word sent out into all parts of the coming of the train, and in this way the farmers will learn of it, and can be on hand. One of the big features of the train will be the live stock types that will be taken. There are quite a number of types now at the college which are used all the time in class work, and Prof. Burns believes that he will be able to get more from the breeders in the state, who will readily endorse his scheme.

No schedule has yet been arranged, but one will be gotten up right away. The railroad people are very enthusiastic about this matter, and believe it
